Impairments of communication and disability are common features of Parkinson's disease (PD) that can alter patient's social, interpersonal and sexual relationships. The purpose of this study was to evaluate the influence of sex in the prevalence of PD in community-dwelling subjects. A PD-free cohort composed of 537 men and 1,299 women aged 40 or over underwent an exhaustive evaluation of clinical and neuroimaging features including clinical rating scale for PD (Unified PD Rating Scale, UPDRS). Sex-related sex differences in the frequency of PD were found for tremor (1.1 % men, 2.4 % women; p // This source file is part of the Swift.org open source project // Copyright (c) 2014 - 2017 Apple Inc. and the Swift project authors // Licensed under Apache License v2.0 with Runtime Library Exception // // See for license information // See for the list of Swift project authors // RUN: not %target-swift-frontend %s -typecheck for c { class e e { func c: T > c { } struct B T) -> { class d : I { let i : I { func b(o o)("") type version.Q: Placing divs side by side no matter how much text is inside them How to make all divs side by side no matter how much is inside? Here is the fiddle The first div should be under the middle div and side by side until it reaches the right side of the middle div. I tried to float all the divs left but it doesn't work. I had to wrap some in a div and then float that but that is not what i am looking for. I don't want to wrap them. I don't want to use flex because my divs contain block level elements and flex doesn't work with those. A: You can use `body > div { display: flex; }` and add a direction property for your divs. `body > div { display: flex; flex-direction: row; }` Here is the link :
